Discover Slocum Street...

The finest in European Antiques

Discover Slocum Street in Dallas... you'll be amazed at the number of large showrooms and sheer volume of quality 18th and 19th century European Antiques that abound on this extraordinary street. Slocum Street is adjacent to the Dallas Design District and Decorative Center, making it a natural for designers and collectors alike.

Dallas has not always been historically regarded as an antique town, but Slocum Street has quietly changed that perception and now attracts designers and collectors from New York to California and Canada to Mexico. Though once an industrial area, Slocum Street recently has been transformed, boasting over 250,000 square feet of showroom space. According to one dealer, "Slocum Street compares with any city in the country when it comes to quality and selection, and in fact ranks high above most cities in what we have to offer. I ran into a customer in France and she commented that there was more on Slocum Street than she was finding there!"

Discover Slocum Street and you will discover the matchless source for the finest in European Antiques. The Slocum Street dealers look forward to your visit soon.

For more information about the Slocum Street Antique Dealer Association, shop www.antiquesdallas.com or contact the association members directly.
